Alva Can Handle Speed Marvel's Delivery

Better Than Any Other Catcher on Griff's Staff.

BY J. ED GRILLO.

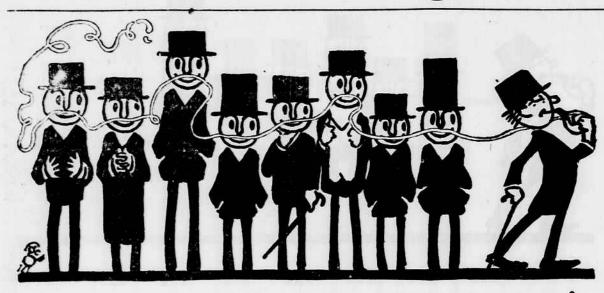

CHARLOTTESVILLE, March 24.—It is very likely that Walter Johnson will be paired with Alva Williams this season, at least until Eddie Ainsmith gets back into the game and proves that he has entirely recovered his eyesight.

Williams handles Johnson's delivery most satisfactorily. He is a big, strong man himself, is a good receiver and in the senting of the pitchers, is perhaps the fastest runner and one of the best hitters on the team. He frequently beats out infield hits, and when he hits for a distance he can get around the bases in close to record time.

man himself, is a good receiver and knows a lot about the art of working a sagainst Virginia, was not scored on, and he held the varsity hitters to three hits. This young man eventually will be a good pitcher, for he has control and needs but to learn to put his body behind his motion.

Take the trail of any real wise smoker with a pipe between his teeth and snatch a mellow whiff of fragrant "Tux."

Then you'll right away hunt up the nearest tobacco shop and gladly intern a dime in exchange for a green tin of pure smoke-delight.

"Tux" is going ahead of them all with a speed that makes it look like a race between a 60-horse-power motor-car and a steam roller. It's the fastest-growing brand of smoking tobacco in the world.

ward, and Williams is of just the proper build to backstop for the speed marvel. Incidentally, Williams likes to handle the speed of the Griffmen's start twirler, because there is always enough on the ball to keep the catcher on edge and alert. Incidentally, Walter watches base runners well and prevents them from getting an undue lead off the bag, thus making it possible for his catcher to throw out ambitious base catcher to throw out ambitious base

Sawyer really is a wonderful player on the infield. He gets into all sorts of plays, and when it comes to touching being the row than he could boast of early last season. He has a wonderful to on the ball this spring, and when he gets to using curves and his change of pace it will be no easy matter to score any runs off him.

Gallia, too, is in fine form, as are Harper. Shaw and Ayers. But Bentley

Harper. Shaw and Ayers. But Bentley and some of the others have reached that stage where their arms have become sore as a result of having cut loose with all their force—a natural condition. These pitchers will round to within a few days, however, and there is every reason for believing that the entire staff will be ready to work the entire route by the time the team gets home, though Manager Griffith will continue to let each man go about four or five innings for a while longer until he is convinced that they can go the entire route without endangering their arms.

Iter and knows the game mighty well. With the weather likely to continue springlike the Nationals will continue to play two games every day. Today both games will be with the Colts, but Saturday the Regulars will stack up against the varsity team and Walter Johnson will pitch part of the affair. Monday morning Griffith, in addition to giving his players a stiff workout, will play a game and another in the afternoon. Tuesday morning the last game will be played, after which the team will board a train for home, where they will play Georgetown University Wednesday.

There is going to be a lot of speed on the team this year. Judge and Jamieson are a fast pair of youngsters and neither is as yet in his best sprinting form, which will be acquired as the training season develops. Eddle Foster is faster now than he ever has been, for the reason that he has gotten well and is quite fast to first base.

his present state of mind lies in the fact that late yesterday afternoon he found a six-hundred-dollar diamond ring lost by Ty Cobb, the famous Detroit outfielder.

When Cobb was on his way to this city some time ago he lost the ring while washing in the dressing room of a Pullman car en route from Cleveland to this city. He made a search for the gem on the day he lost it, but was unsuccessful. Since then every youngster in the neighborhood of Elmwood place has been searching for the missing ring. Young Harley will take the ring to August Herrmann's office today, when it probably will the sent to Cobb.
